NASTT's 2019 No-Dig Show — the largest tradeshow solely devoted to the trenchless technology industry — comes to Chicago, IL, March 17-21, and registration is open.

NASTT's 2019 No-Dig Show — managed by Benjamin Media Inc. — is a trenchless celebration that expertly combines professional and high-quality education and exhibits with fun and entertaining networking opportunities over the course of the five-day event at the Donald E. Stephens Convention Center. This annual conference brings together trenchless professionals across the spectrum of the industry to push forward the trenchless message to attendees who include public works, contractors, engineers, utility owners, damage prevention and industrial facility personnel. The 2019 conference is expected to attract 2,000 attendees and nearly 200 exhibiting companies.

NASTT's No-Dig Show blends education and technology through its topnotch Technical Program which features 160 technical papers, as well as opportunities for Continuing Education Units (CEUs). The topics run the gamut of the trenchless rehabilitation and new installation industry.

The Exhibit Hall covers more than 92,000 sq ft. Special networking events include the annual Kick-Off Breakfast, Gala Awards Dinner, NASTT's Hall of Fame induction, the 18th Annual Educational Fund Auction and Reception, and the Closing Luncheon.

Keep track of the entire show and connect with other attendees using the official 2019 mobile event app. This app puts the NASTT's No-Dig Show events and latest happenings at your fingertips. For the latest information about the show and to register, visit nodigshow.com.

For information about registration, contact conferences@benjaminmedia.com, for the Auction, contact Jenna Hale at jhale@nastt.org; for exhibitor and sponsorship opportunities, contact Brittany Cline at bcline@benjaminmedia.com.
